

PRESS RELEASE

Zurich, May 2018

Hempel Special Metals Group takes over the operation of Econoxx.com

Econoxx.com GmbH was deleted from the commercial register by the end of April. All activities were taken over by Hempel Special Metals AG, Dübendorf. Hempel Special Metals Group now operates the Econoxx.com platform exclusively for its customers, suppliers and all partners who are interested in the concept and further development of the unique industry solution for liquidation articles, overstock, remnants, etc.

The industry marketplace is still available free of charge with all features and is sporadically enriched with interesting offers of standard articles for certain markets. By integrating the settlement into the Hempel Special Metals Group, we are optimizing the processes so that further growth of the metal outlet is guaranteed.

The proven Econoxx.com team is already trained for the new systems and is now located at Zürichstrasse 128, CH-8600 Dübendorf. Mr. Yves Reymond has left the company by 30.04.2018. We thank him for his pioneering prework and wish him lot success for his future.

André Hempel, Managing Director of Hempel Special Metals Group, takes responsibility for Econoxx.com and is already looking forward to taking the innovative industry platform to the next level. All contact persons are available for you in a highly motivated manner.

Material remains and overstock are lying pointless in your warehouse – wouldn't you rather use their value to buy pointless things?

Up to 150'000 of Euro's of materials are sitting for years in warehouses, wasted! These stainless steels, nickel alloys and titanium alloys are too valuable to be sold as scrap or to lie around! We can make cash with this products, with two to four times more revenue as through the scrap channel! Easily. Simply. Safe.
